Welcome, Mission & What We Stand For

Welcome, Endi Aguilar. Ross Tax Pro Software Co. is building a disciplined virtual-office culture where professional judgment, taxpayer dignity, data protection, accurate work, accountable service, and continuous learning come before volume.

Mission

Deliver secure, evidence-centered tax practitioner services and software-supported casework that help clients understand and navigate tax administration without exaggeration, pressure, discrimination, or unsupported promises.

Operating values

- Integrity: case records say exactly what is known, unknown, prepared, submitted, received, and resolved.
- Security: taxpayer information is accessed only for assigned work and protected through approved systems.
- Competence: practitioners work only within training, authorization, and professional limits.
- Accountability: corrections are documented; conflicts and incidents are escalated promptly.
- Service: clients receive respectful communication, realistic expectations, and clear next steps.
- Growth: advancement follows demonstrated quality, security discipline, credentials, and leadership readiness.

Terms of Employment and 90-Day Introductory Period

At-will language and an introductory period do not erase rights under applicable law or create a guaranteed term. Authorized counsel should review this section for the employee work state.

Appointment

The employer appoints Endi Aguilar to the position entered in the Employee Profile, subject to completion of required verification, agreements, training, access approval, and any lawful conditions of employment.

At-Will Relationship

Unless a written agreement signed by an authorized corporate officer expressly states otherwise, employment is intended to be at will to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law. Either party may end employment at any time, with or without advance notice or cause, subject to applicable law. No manager may alter this status orally.

Introductory Period

The first 90 calendar days are an introductory assessment period. Continued employment during or after that period is not guaranteed. The employer may extend training, restrict access, reassign duties, or end employment consistent with law and policy.

Performance Conditions

Evaluation includes attendance, timely training, data-security behavior, documentation accuracy, client communication, escalation judgment, production quality, and compliance with authorization boundaries.

Conflicts and Outside Activity

Employee must disclose outside tax-preparation, bookkeeping, financial-product, software, or client-service activities that may create a conflict, data risk, divided loyalty, or misuse of employer resources.

Policies and Changes

Policies are operational guidance and are not a contract unless expressly identified and signed as such. The employer may revise prospective procedures, subject to law and required notice.

Compensation Election & Commission Addendum

No pay term is effective until every field is completed, reviewed for applicable wage-and-hour rules, and signed by an authorized officer.

Commission pay does not by itself remove minimum-wage, overtime, timekeeping, or recordkeeping obligations. The regular rate and overtime treatment must be determined under applicable law. Unauthorized deductions, retroactive formula changes, and off-the-clock work are prohibited.

Privacy, Confidentiality & Taxpayer Data Agreement

- Access taxpayer data only for assigned work, valid authorization, and a permissible business purpose.
- Do not copy data to personal email, devices, drives, screenshots, messaging applications, or unapproved AI services.
- Use assigned accounts, MFA, approved devices, encryption, secure disposal, and clean-desk controls.
- Immediately report loss, misdirection, phishing, malware, suspicious access, or disclosure. Do not investigate secretly.
- Return and delete employer information as directed at separation, subject to preservation and legal-hold requirements.
- Client information remains protected after employment ends.

Tax-return information use and disclosure must comply with IRC sections 6713 and 7216 and applicable consent rules. The firm must maintain a written information security program and safeguards appropriate to its risk profile. TC 570 / TC 810 Research Specialist Track

These transaction codes can indicate a stopped or frozen refund. Staff cannot input, reverse, or release IRS transaction codes unless separately authorized by the IRS within an official IRS function.

Event	Meaning boundary	Required workflow
TC 570	Additional-liability or compliance hold indicator	Research source, related notices, pending activity, and controlling function; monitor authoritative resolution.
TC 571/572	Potential release/reversal event	Evaluate the complete module and pending activity; do not assume refund issuance.
TC 810	Refund freeze indicator	Capture date and available responsibility information; identify controlling IRS function; prepare permitted evidence/referral.
TC 811	Freeze-release transaction	Confirm posting and complete module status; document what remains before representing resolution.
TC 846/840	Refund issue event	Validate date, amount, method, offsets, and trace eligibility if non-receipt is reported.

Specialist title means trained caseworker. It does not imply government authority or a guaranteed “reversal.” Marketing, client notes, and invoices must use accurate wording.

Refund Trace & Release Intervention Track

1. Verify authorization, taxpayer identity, tax period, and source transcript.
2. Confirm that a refund was issued and record TC 846/840 date, amount, and payment method.
3. Confirm non-receipt facts, address/direct-deposit details, joint-return facts, and prior trace activity.
4. Apply current IRM 21.4.2 timing and Form 3911/oral-statement procedures.
5. Record IRS/BFS/TCIS references, contact dates, promise dates, and disposition.
6. For hardship, document immediate adverse impact and evaluate current TAS criteria.
7. Close only with authoritative resolution evidence or documented transfer/withdrawal.

“Intervention submitted” is not “refund released.” “Release requested” is not “release approved.” Every system status must preserve that distinction.

LMS Onboarding Script

Welcome, Endi Aguilar, to Ross Tax Pro Software Co. This orientation introduces the standards that protect our clients, our team, and the integrity of every case. Begin by confirming your assigned identity and MFA. Never share credentials. Work only inside your assigned tenant, role, and case queue. Each record must distinguish verified facts from assumptions and drafted actions from completed actions. If a transcript shows TC 570 or TC 810, pause, research the controlling facts, and follow the approved workflow. Do not promise a release. Andrea may help organize facts and sources, but a qualified human remains accountable for material tax conclusions and submissions. If anything looks wrong, stop and escalate. Precision is part of service.

Andrea AI Assistance & Responsible Use

Andrea is an evidence-centered assistant for organizing facts, identifying discrepancies, locating current official guidance, drafting communications, producing checklists, and proposing reviewable next actions.

- Use restricted case context for taxpayer data; never place full TINs or credentials in general chat.
- Request sources and revision dates for unstable tax, employment, or security rules.
- Require outputs to separate provided facts, verified facts, uncertainty, analysis, actions, approval gate, and confidence.
- Human review is mandatory for filings, amendments, transmissions, hardship referrals, identity-theft determinations, and material client advice.
- Tool results and authoritative records control; fluent language is not proof.

Approved prompt: “Using only the authorized case facts and current official sources, identify verified events, unresolved discrepancies, applicable procedure, missing evidence, permitted next actions, approval requirements, and confidence. Do not predict a refund date or represent a requested action as completed.”
